

Scarred Nations: Intrastate conflicts, legacies, and reconciliation

Titiro whakamuri ki anga whakamua

20th-21st April 2023, Auckland War Memorial Museum

The Symposium's framing of intrastate conflict (or civil war) within an international and historical context (with significant Aotearoa New Zealand and Pacific content) is unique, timely, and relevant to both local and international audiences.

Intrastate conflicts are characterised by a multitude of perspectives, experiences, cultures, histories, and sites. The Scarred Nations symposium draws together these diverse facets of internal war into a shared conceptual space. While other examinations of intrastate conflict often take particular disciplinary approaches, Scarred Nations examines this subject through a multi-perspectival lens including historical, artistic, museological, military, and diplomatic responses.

Tickets: scarrednations.com/tickets

Email: symposium2023@scarrednations.com

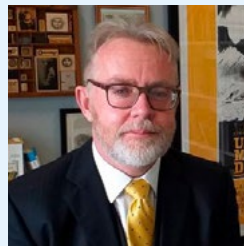

Speakers

The symposium brings together leading national and international scholars, thinkers, creative practitioners and those with direct experience. Expert sessions include presentations by the Ministry of Defence Manatū Kaupapa Waonga and New Zealand Defence Force Te Ope Kātua o Aotearoa.

View a full list of speakers at scarrednations.com/speakers

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Thursday 20th April

Professor Alexander Gillespie: The Wars of Today and Tomorrow: Global risk and New Zealand in an increasingly lawless world.

Evening lecture: Professor James Belich: Comparing Anglo-world settler societies and their violent relations with indigenous peoples.

Friday 21st April

David Shearer MBE, speaking on the themes of peace, resolution and reunification.

Scarred Nations

Intrastate conflict, legacies and reconciliation

ORGANISING PARTNERS

Ministry for Culture & Heritage

